

I've been playing vr way too many times

Bone lab might be the one game that is painfully boring but brings me back in over and over giving me nothing, nothing to do nothing to gain

I don't get anything from playing it like skill that I'll use in real life

It's painfully boring and yet I get back to play It over and over and over again

that's why I hate it

It gives nothing and takes all the time from me by me not being able to control my stupid self

It happens EVERY SINGLE DAY

I told mom to remind me not to play vr if she saw me playing it so that I'd use up time doing something meaningful and she told me not to overwork myself and do play it but also restrict myself and I decided to take it into my own hands and get rid of all of the controller batteries and throw them out

I knew they were still usable and had full power but if you don't have a game you can't play it

And hilariously enough this action made me feel better about myself more than playing any games

I'll just watch Youtube videos to take a break, I'm no gamer